

Certification Program for Roofing Contractors Of Montana

Certification Program for Roofing Contractors of Montana Provided Through The:

MONTANA ROOFING CONTRACTORS ASSOCIATION

INTRODUCTION: The Roofing Contractors Association of Montana provides the Certification Program to increase consumer protection and secure the public confidence in the roofing industry by elevating the roofing contractors skills, knowledge and professionalism through voluntary self-regulation.

WHO IS TO BE CERTIFIED: Individuals are to be certified, not companies. Certification is available for both Residential and Commercial Roofing Contractors. A Contractor can choose to apply for certification in one or both categories. Certification is open to all Roofing Contractors in Montana who meet the qualifications, and is not limited to members of the Montana Roofing Contractors Association.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR EACH PERSON:

1. Must be a principal in a Roofing Company domiciled in the State of Montana for a minimum of three (3) continuous years immediately prior to date of application. The company must have a fixed address with a physical location; a branch office can meet the requirements of domicile provided all other requirements are met. A principal is defined as one who is actively engaged in the day to day management of the business, and is also in one of the following categories:
 - Sole Proprietorship - Owner.
 - Partnership - Managing partner, general partner, or partner with a minimum of 25% ownership interest.
 - Corporation - Executive officer, or majority owner of voting stock.
2. Must submit three (3) satisfactory credit references in Montana for the firm as listed on the application.
3. Must submit four (4) satisfactory business references in Montana – one each from a customer, a manufacturer, a supplier, and a design professional (architect, engineer or construction manager).
4. Must submit satisfactory evidence of financial responsibility as required in the application, consisting of:
 - a. For commercial contractor applicants: $1,000,000 combined single limit general liability and evidence that the firm can obtain a $100,000 surety bond, cash bond, property bond or irrevocable letter of credit.
 - b. For residential contractor applicants: $500,000 combined single limit general liability insurance or evidence that the firm can obtain a $10,000 surety bond, cash bond, property bond or irrevocable letter of credit.
 - c. Workers' compensation insurance complying with Montana statutes and acceptable to the Certification Committee, including employers liability limit of 500/500/500,000 or greater.
 - d. Satisfactory signed and notarized applicant statement.
5. Must pass basic business and safety knowledge exam plus residential and/or commercial exam with a score of 75% or better on each exam.

- Worker's Compensation – please submit evidence of coverage, including employer liability limit of 500/500/500,000 or greater

EXAMINATIONS: Examinations will consist of a business and safety knowledge portion and a technical roofing portion. Upon receipt of a satisfactory application, applicant will be notified of manual and resources to help prepare for the examination. The certification examinations will be given each year at the Annual Conference site and at other times and in other cities as scheduled by the MRCA Certification Committee. Exams become the property of MRCA and the results will remain confidential.

RENEWAL: The certification period is for two years following date of certification. At expiration, certification can be renewed by:

1. Meeting the same application qualifications outlined here with the exception of examination , and
2. Providing evidence of having taken 6 Roofing and 4 Business Education Units (CEU hours) at approved workshops or seminars during the two-year period of certification, and
3. Paying the Certification Renewal fee of $125 for an MRCA Member or $275 for a non-member.

INACTIVE STATUS: If a certified person leaves the employment of the company under which form for certification was obtained and does not obtain other employment with an employer meeting requirements for a Certified Roofing Contractor, that person may apply for inactive status by notice to the Certification Committee within sixty days. To maintain inactive status, the person:

1. Must provide evidence of remaining involved in the roofing industry, and
2. Must renew certification, if renewal date occurs while inactive, by:
 - a) Provide evidence of the 10 Continuing Education Units, as noted above:
 - b) Pay the inactive status renewal fee of $62.50, and
 - c) Will not need to meet application qualifications related to firm of employment.

Inactive status will be granted for no longer than two years, at which time the person must qualify for active status again or have certification terminated.

TERMINATION: Certification may be terminated for any person by the Certification Committee for any one of the following reasons:

1. Failure to meet the requirements at the time of renewal.
2. Failure to meet the requirements of inactive statue.
3. Disciplinary action by the Certification Committee.

After termination, a new application and examination, at the full fee, will be required for Certification, and all requirements in effect at the time of the new application must be met.

FEES:	MRCA Member	Non-Member
Commercial Certification	$250	$425
Residential Certification	$250	$425
Both exams on same day	$300	$475
Re-Take Exam	$75
For member rate, MRCA dues must be current.		$150

Fees include application, processing, exam, recording, certificate, and one re-exam if not passed the first time. The application and fee are valid for one (1) year from the date of submission.
